This tour gives you a chance to see Red-breasted Geese, White-headed Ducks and other wintering geese and ducks on the Black Sea coast. The one-week tour will have two centres, the first on the northern part of the Black Sea coast, and then in the south near Burgas Lakes.

Balkania Travel

Although wintering wildfowl will be our main target, wintering birds on the Black Sea coast include a wide range of raptors (including Spotted and White-tailed Eagles, Goshawk, Rough-legged and Long-legged Buzzards), a good selection of woodpeckers (no leaves for the birds to hide behind!), flocks of larks (including Calandra) and, on the sea, mixed rafts of grebes and divers. The itinerary at each base has not been pre-set, as this allows a flexible approach to each day, taking account of prevailing weather conditions and local information. The weather is likely to be cold, so you should be prepared for this and perhaps some travel delays.

Tihomir (Tisho) is currently working as an ichthyologist at the National Museum of Natural History in Sofia (www.nmnh.com). His main research topic is taxonomy and phylogeny of the freshwater fish, and he has recently received his doctorate on the taxonomy, distribution and evolution of the cyprinid fishes in the Balkan Peninsula. He is an enthusiastic naturalist and a very keen birdwatcher.

Bulgaria's beautiful scenery, friendly people and excellent wine and food are additional highlights. The B-BS offers you the benefits of over forty years' experience of organizing tours to Bulgaria and excellent value. The accommodation is comfortable (and well situated for birdwatching!) but not luxurious.

For your financial protection our tour operators for over twenty years, Balkania Travel Ltd. are licensed by the UK Civil Aviation Authority, ATOL 4465 and bonded by the International Air Transport Association, IATA number 91-2 7839. Our tour price includes a donation to the Bulgarian Society for the Protection of Birds or other conservation organization in Bulgaria.

Final details and bird lists will be sent to participants approximately two weeks before departure.
